Ohio Valley Trades and Labor
Assembly Decides to Send

A COMMITTEE TO THE CAPITAL

To Advance the Several Labor Measures now Before the House of Delegates—President Tighe and Mr. A. L. Bauer are the Committee. Legislation the Principal Topic at Sunday's Meeting of the Assembly.

Yesterday afternoon a regular meeting of the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly was held, with President Tighe and Secretary Salisbury at their posts. Notwithstanding the very cold weather, there was a large attendance. Ned Sims and Oscar Howard qualified as delegates of Typographical Union No. 79, as did Enoch Bourne and August Pagendam as delegates of L. U. No. 6, of the Pottery Brotherhood. J. H. Fischer and H. Roder were obligated as delegates of the musicians' union.

The legislative committee reported having organized by the election of C. P. Stein as chairman. The committee also reported that there is little chance for the success of the several labor bills being championed by the assembly unless the assembly is personally represented at the session of the legislature now drawing to its close. A lengthy discussion followed, and there seemed to be a general desire for the sending of one or two members of the assembly to Charleston at once, to push the labor bills to a decisive vote.

President Tighe said he had written to Speaker McKinney and Senator Whitaker, who had assured the assembly of their friendliness to labor's interests. He had just had a conference with State Labor Commissioner Barton, who said it will be necessary to get in some hard blows before the labor measures will receive support sufficient to insure their passage before the legislature adjourns.

Delegates moved that the assembly send a committee of two to Charleston to push labor measures. He suggested that the committee center its efforts on one of the four bills fathered by the assembly. It seems to be certain that the four bills cannot be passed, but the passage of one bill might be secured.

Delegate Riley said the legislature has wrangled two months over the passage of two bills, one a bill providing for the hanging of criminals at the state penitentiary, while hundreds of workingmen's interests are endangered by lack of labor legislation. The anti-fee legislation, too, should receive the earnest support of the assembly.

Secretary Salisbury opposed sending a committee to Charleston; it would cost a good deal, and he feared nothing would be accomplished.

Delegates held the opinion that the assembly should have had a committee at Charleston from the starting of the legislature's session.

Delegate Bauer said house bill No. 102 has the least opposition and the best chance of passage—this bill provides for the betterment of employees' conditions in the factories of the state. The Sims motion, providing for sending a committee to Charleston, was passed, 20 to 6. The following suggestions were made as members of the committee: A. L. Bauer, M. F. Tighe, W. H. H. Riley, T. J. Duffy, F. D. Thomas and T. V. Salisbury. Mr. Riley declined. It was decided to send one Democrat and one Republican. The assembly first elected the Democratic member. Mr. Duffy withdrew and President Tighe was unanimously chosen as the Democratic member of the committee. The Republican was then elected. Mr. Thomas declined, leaving Messrs. Bauer and Salisbury as the candidates. The ballot resulted as follows: Bauer, 21; Salisbury, 15.

Messrs. Bauer and Tighe expressed their thanks for the honor conferred. In future campaigns, said President Tighe, names of legislators opposed to labor should be made public. This should be the policy of the assembly in the future. On motion, an order for $100 was drawn in favor of the committee, Messrs. Bauer and Tighe, for their expenses at Charleston.

The assembly instructed the committee to stand out against the amendments proposed on the child labor bill. These amendments, it was said, were intended to kill the bill.

Senators Faulkner and Elkins informed the assembly that they would support the house eight-hour bill when it comes up in the senate.

Bricklayers' union No. 1 reported it was not deemed desirable at present to send delegates to the assembly.

Local Union 116, United Mine Workers, reported certain mines whose output is non-union or union respectively. Bonds of trustees were presented and approved.

The following committees were appointed for the year:

Arbitration—L. W. Selvey, Fred Williams, E. V. Gillies.
Organization—T. J. Duffy, George A. Dittman, Gabriel Jackson, Edward Dittmore and Oscar Howard.

Sergeant at Arms—Edward Brown.

Information was asked for in relation to the controversy between the American Federation of Labor and the stogie makers' league, and Secretary Salisbury stated that he had received a communication from Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, in which he stated that the stogie makers' league was not affiliated with that body, and therefore had no standing. A motion was made instructing the secretary to continue correspondence with the secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and if possible secure information as to why the stogie makers were ignored.

The lecture of Prof. Raymond, at the high school, some time since, which was well received. He also requested the laboring classes to attend a lecture to be given by the same gentleman in the near future. There is no doubt the opportunity to hear Prof. Raymond will be taken advantage of by many who heard the reading. A vote of thanks was tendered President Raymond for the plain manner in which he handled the sweating system.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe. George W. Walit, of South Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cold, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by druggists.

MUSICAL WHEELING.

The week just ended was replete with all sorts and conditions of music, and as stated in a previous issue of the Intelligencer popular music has its hold on the people, as evidenced by the large audience which greeted Miss Anna A. Jones with her characteristic programme last Monday, and the Woman's Club, with its Old Folks' Concert, Wednesday, both entertainments given to show the evolution of music and taste. The present week has nothing of a public character, and only the usual rehearsals are on.

The song recital by Miss Anna Allison Jones, of Zanesville, at Milligan, Wilkin & Co.'s music rooms, was interesting throughout. Miss Jones has a charming delivery, and a voice above that of the average concert singer. Every nation was represented, either vocally or instrumentally, and the music preface by a descriptive reading by Miss Conrade, the accompanist and instrumental soloist, making an unusually interesting evening. The novel idea of reading in snatches what would otherwise have seemed a long essay was appreciated. The evening was varied with readings by Miss Ada Van Voorhis, who captivated the audience with her ease and naturalness. "The Soprano of the Choir," by Wilkins, and "Her Romance," by Bret Harle, together with "The Country Dressmaker," were capital character portrayals, and were delightfully received. The same entertainment coterie will be gladly heard again.

The Woman's Club Concert, in the A. O. U. W. Temple, called forth the largest audience of the season. The idea was splendidly sustained, and the old ballads were delightfully received.

The recital of the pupils of Signor Riccardo Ricci, in the Carroll Club Auditorium, last Thursday evening, eclipsed any former pupils' recital. The programme was artistic, and carried through with great credit to instructor and performers.

The young pupils of Miss Annie V. Sage, heard in piano recital last Tuesday evening, deserve the highest praise for their intelligent interpretations.

Attention of all interested in the coming production of the "Three Black Mantles," is called to rehearsal this evening, at Milligan, Wilkin & Co.'s music rooms. The full score will be given, free of any charge, to all wishing to take part, and all are requested to be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock.

MRS. RORER, ON COMPLEXION.

Not a Matter of Outward Application.

Mrs. Rorer answers, in the Ladies' Home Journal, an enquirer about good complexion, reciting that it can only come from a healthy condition of the entire system and that it is not a matter of outward application, finishing with the statement that "Your food cannot possibly agree with you if you have muscular rheumatism and a bad complexion."

It is a known fact that many people fail to properly digest the starchy part of bread and other food. Grape-Nuts (a delightful breakfast food) are made of the grape-sugar which results from paring the starchy parts of the cereals, in the same way artificial as the body should do by natural processes. Therefore Grape-Nuts give one food all ready for immediate assimilation into blood and tissue. They are made by the Postum Co. at Battle Creek, Mich., and are ready prepared, require no cooking whatever and will be found most valuable by Athlete, Brain worker or Invalid.

SOCIETY.

The Arion's annual masque ball and carnival this evening will be in keeping with the brilliant functions of the past. Mr. Jones, the Baltimore costumer, arrived in the city yesterday with an elaborate set of costumes, which will adorn the carnival revelers to-night. Nothing in Wheeling so approaches the Mardi Gras as the Arion's carnival, and the scene on the ball-room floor with its mazes and maze of colors is one to be remembered. The attendance is expected to be above the average.

The most elaborate masque carnival ever given by the Wheeling Turnverein occurs this evening at the society's hall, on North Market street, and in point of costume and original features it promises to eclipse anything seen in the city for many a day. The grand march will be especially brilliant, drilling for this event having been in progress for weeks, and the participants have given it the same attention they do to athletic and gymnastic contests. A cake walk is to be another notable feature.

The carnival march, by the way, will reflect the recent war between Uncle Sam and Spain, for naval attire will adorn the gentlemen and their partners. The costumes throughout will be gorgeous and original, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous, and a large attendance is assured with moderate weather. Meister's orchestra will play, and the carnival committee in charge is composed of Messrs. Nick, Plume, Herman Schambra, Philip Schambra, Herman Friedrich and Martin Ruggaber.
